Wheelhouse Group Awarded OPM and GSA's Human Capital and Training Solutions Small Business (HCaTS SB) IDIQ

Company Perfectly Suited to Guide Government Agencies in Leading the People Side of Change

Fairfax, Va.— Wheelhouse Group, Inc., a woman-owned small business consulting firm, announced that it has been awarded the Human Capital and Training Solutions Small Business (HCaTS SB) government-wide multiple award indefinite-delivery indefinite-quantity (MA/IDIQ) contract vehicle by the General Services Administration (GSA). HCaTS is the result of a partnership between the US Office of Personnel Management (OPM) and GSA to provide best in class, customized services for human capital management, training and development to federal agencies.

After a rigorous vetting process, Wheelhouse Group was one of only 24 small businesses to receive the HCaTS SB Pool 1 award for Professional and Management Development Training, chosen for its history of successful past performance in delivering customized human capital and training solutions to the Federal government.

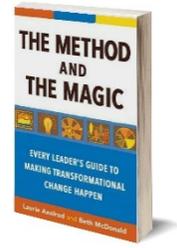

"Guiding federal agencies through the 'people side' of transformational change is our core strength," said Laurie Axelrod, Chief Executive Officer of Wheelhouse Group. "Modernization and the customer experience are top government initiatives and having the right talent, skills and processes to meet agency missions are so critical."

"Our 16-year history of providing customized organizational change, human capital and custom training solutions to meet the mission of government is perfectly suited to this contract," said Beth McDonald, President of Wheelhouse Group. "We are thrilled by this new GSA award."
